IN THIS ISSUE: GRAND OFFICERS

Greeneville Lodge News

If you attended Grand Lodge this year, then you know how well Greeneville Lodge was represented. Four members of Greeneville Lodge were invested with Grand titles. Brother Dewey Cox will continue to serve as our district's Grand Lecturer. Companion Dwayne Wells was appointed District Deputy Grand High Priest, Sir Knight Jim Gosnell will be taking on the duties of Grand Inspector where he will grade all the Commanderies for the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Tennessee, and Companion Joe Byrd was elected Excellent Grand Captain of the Host for the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Tennessee.

Saturday, April 21 and Saturday, April 28, the Upper East Tennessee York Rite Association will be holding the spring festival in Kingsport. If you are interested in joining the York Rite, it is not too late. Please contact the Secretary for more information.

Greeneville Lodge No. 3 will be hosting a brand-new degree this year. Due to the possibility of inclement weather, security issues, and access, the annual Master Mason degree has a new venue. This year Greeneville will be hosting a River Degree along the banks of the Nolichucky river. The event will take place on the private property of a Lodge member. There will be plenty of parking and transportation to and from the site. More details and directions will be released later.

August 11th, and August 18th.

Inaugural River Degree

The River Degree

This year Greeneville Lodge will be hosting a River degree on the banks of the Nolichucky River. It will take the place of the annual Mountain Top degree. Greeneville Lodge will have t-shirts, hat, and pins for sale. The design above is an example of what to expect. The Most Worshipful Grand Master of Tennessee Dickie McKinney and his Grand Officers will be conferring the Master Mason degree. More details about the event and directions to the property will be released later.
